Research Article

Proactive also produces Research Articles on companies at key times, these have contributed to an increase in market valuation. At an appropriate time, we write a Research Article and distribute it across our Australian, UK/European and North American websites and also distribute it across retail and professional investor channels.

Once a company engages with Proactive Investors, other groups in the market – including retail investors, stockbrokers and Fund Managers – read our news, articles and opinions on our websites and begin their own coverage. They also share discussion forums picked up on companies that we cover in depth and consistently.
