Brookside Energy's oil and gas production results confirm productivity in the SCOOP Play

Brookside Energy Ltd (ASX:BRK) has achieved a production rate of 1,828 barrels of oil equivalent per day (BOE/day) (67% oil) from the Bullard 1-18/7H well at the Anadarko Basin plays in Oklahoma, US.

The company has a 20.57% working interest in the well which recently commenced producing from the Woodford Shale in the SCOOP Play.

The well has produced about 73,000 BOE (69% oil) in its first 60-days of production (about 50,000 barrels of oil and 136 million cubic feet of gas).

These results were achieved from a 7,500-foot lateral producing from the Woodford Shale formation at a depth of about 8,050 feet.

Significantly, this well is located adjacent to (within about 5-miles) Brookside's SWISH area of interest (SWISH AOI), which is the focus of the current leasing campaign.

Brookside managing director David Prentice said: "We are again delighted to present the early production results from a new well to our shareholders and

"The Bullard well is located in close proximity to our SWISH AOI and it provides us with an early look at what we can expect there when development gets underway.

"The Woodford, together with the Sycamore are central to the value creation model for SWISH and it is wonderful to have achieved this milestone so early in the evolution of the SWISH story."
