The total holding of the group, which is directly related to the company's former chairman and non-executive director Stephen Copulos, now stands at almost 116 million shares.

READ: Black Rock Mining's third deal takes graphite offtake to 85% of planned annual production

Early this year the company signed a third offtake agreement which when added to two other deals could represent about 85% of proposed annual natural flake graphite production from Mahenge Graphite Project in Tanzania.

The three-year agreement with Chinese trading house Taihe Soar (Dalian) Supply Chain Management Co Ltd is for the annual supply of up to 100,000 tonnes of sized graphite concentrate by year three.

Combined annual tonnage of all three offtake agreements is up to 205,000 tonnes by year three.

This offtake agreement with Taihe Soar adds to Black Rock's first and second agreements with Heilongjiang Bohao and Qingdao Fujin.
