Predictive Discovery's drilling confirms substantial new gold discovery at Cote d'Ivoire project

Predictive Discovery Ltd (ASX:PDI) managing director Paul Roberts speaks to Proactive Investors about a new gold discovery identified by diamond drilling at the Ouarigue South prospect within its Ferkessedougou North Project in Cote d'Ivoire. Roberts says the results have exceeded the company's expectations, with thick gold intercepts and high-grade intervals in a body that is up to 100 metres wide and at least 210 metres long. "By diamond drilling we've actually demonstrated something we had an idea of from surface," says Roberts. He continues, "What we've got is a series of very impressive intrercepts with broad widths such as 45 metres at 3.5 grams, 45 metres again at 3.2 grams and so on."
